

WASHINGTON IS
BATTLE GROUND
ON PROHIBITIONDry Forces Hope to Make It The First In Their Column

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Anti-prohibitionists, having tucked Texas away in their fold, turned their attention today to the state of Washington, which votes on repeal tomorrow.

Texas, home of Senator Morris Sheppard, who is often called the "Father of the 18th amendment," voted by a majority of about 114,000 on Saturday to wipe the amendment from the constitution.

The Lone Star state was the 23rd in a row to approve repeal. If Washington follows the example, the repeal drive will be two-thirds of the way to its goal.

Dry Forces Hopeful

J. C. Herberman of Seattle, who heads the campaign of the state's association for repeal of the 18th amendment, said, however, that there was "grave danger" of a prohibition victory in Washington unless repealists record a heavy vote. He charged that the legislature, in requiring a referendum through each of 46 legislative districts rather than for the state at large, failed to provide for an expression of the "will of the majority."

Prohibitionists praised the arrangement as fair.

Postmaster General James A. Farley reiterated last night his prediction of early repeal. He said: "I have made repeatedly that the eighteenth amendment will be repealed by Nov. 7."

Coming Referenda

Besides Washington, 14 other states have set definite dates for repeal referenda this year. They are: Sept. 5, Vermont; Sept. 11, Maine; Sept. 12, Colorado, Maryland and Minnesota; Sept. 19, Idaho and New Mexico; Oct. 3, Virginia; Oct. 10, Florida; Nov. 7, North Carolina, Ohio, Pennsylvania, South Carolina and Utah. Some other states may vote this year.

States which have voted to ratify repeal are: Michigan, Wisconsin, Wyoming, Rhode Island, New Jersey, Delaware, Indiana, New York, Massachusetts, Illinois, Iowa, Connecticut, New Hampshire, California, West Virginia, Arkansas, Oregon, Alabama, Tennessee, Nevada, Arizona, Missouri and Texas.

VOTE BY DISTRICTS

Seattle, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Washington registers its preference either for repeal or retention of the prohibition amendment tomorrow, the 24th state to vote on this proposition.

Repealists urged voters to continue the unbroken march of the states toward elimination of the 18th amendment, stressing the point that should Washington favor repeal two thirds of the states required to erase the amendment would be in line. Dry leaders meanwhile called upon the electors to place Washington at the head of the list of the 13 states required to block repeal.

The election will be by legislative districts. There will be 99 delegates in all elected in 46 districts, a number of the districts selecting two or three delegates each. The state wide vote will have no bearing on the outcome.

The issue will be clearly drawn on repeal or retention, as there is no other question before the electors.

Guard Lindberghs
From Admirers In Copenhagen Hotel

Copenhagen, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Police stationed a guard today in front of the hotel where Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh and his wife are staying, and the men assigned to this duty had plenty of work keeping back a crowd of youthful autograph hunters and others.

So many letters and telegrams had piled up that Lindberghs this morning that merely to read them all would take a day or two. The messages included a large number from America sent by way of the American legation.

Apparently the airman realized that he could not entirely escape the public, for he seemed to be taking things philosophically.

TRAFFIC FATALITY

Kewanee, Ill., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Mrs. C. P. Ladd, 38, of River Forest, Ill., was killed by a car Sunday when the car, her husband, was driving plunged down an embankment. Mrs. Ardes Barrow of River Forest, her sister, was seriously injured.

The Pete Snyder residence west of Dixon in Swissville was entered some time Saturday night and two valuable guns were stolen. A 32 caliber automatic revolver was taken from a drawer and a 22 caliber repeating rifle which stood in another room beside a shot gun was also taken, the shot gun not being molested. Entrance was gained through a window during the absence of the Snyders. Deputy Sheriff Ward Miller conducted an investigation into the robbery was reported Sunday morning.

V. L. Carpenter, 417 Second avenue, in Swissville reported to the Sheriff's office Sunday afternoon of a rifle bullet having been fired through a window in his home during the absence of the family. The bullet entered a bath room window, shattering the glass and was found on the floor. Deputy Ward Miller conducted an investigation last evening.

Luther R. Heckman, residing on a cross road east of the Blackhawk village, reported to the Sheriff's office this morning, the loss of about $6 in money from his home. Entrance had been gained by prying a catch on a window and the money stolen, nothing else having been molested.

Prophetstown, Ill., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Quarantine for sleeping sickness was placed at the home of Mrs. Donald Oppendike near here, yesterday when the woman's illness diagnosed as the dread malady by Dr. Isaac Vandermyle of Prophetstown and Dr. U. S. Lewis, State Health Commissioner. Mrs. Oppendike is 25.

Sees Strange Insect

St. Louis, Aug. 28.—(AP)—St. Louis children will tuck their books under their arms and go to school September 5, despite the epidemic of "sleeping sickness" which today had taken 39 lives and affected 265 patients.

Dr. Henry Gerling, Superintendent of Instruction, said he found that comparatively few children had been attacked by encephalitis, and that even if the epidemic should spread further, the children would receive better protection from the malady in the schoolroom than in their homes.

Sixty-one physicians and nurses employed by the Board of Education will be on the watch when school opens, he said, and will cooperate with Federal, state and city health officials in fighting the disease.

Epidemiologists studying the disease, had before them today a report of William Godin, St. Louis resident, who said he saw in his yard an insect similar to the tsetse fly, which is the carrier of sleeping sickness in Africa. Godin said he spent some time in Europe where he saw tsetse flies, and that the insect in his yard strongly resembled the African insect.

DETENTION OF INSULL TO BE TRIED TUESDAYGreek Court To Decide
If He Must Stay In Home

Athens, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The Athens Appeal court today fixed Tuesday morning for hearing the application for formal sanction for Samuel Insull's arrest in connection with American extradition proceedings.

The return of the former Chicago utilities operator, who was detained Saturday, is sought, in connection with the financial collapse of his interests.

The point involved in the pending action is whether he will continue in detention pending the outcome of the extradition proceedings.

Deputy Pericles Rhalhi was retained to assist in the defense of the former Chicagoan, who was detained Saturday in a second attempt to extradite him. He was in a nursing home on advice of his physicians.

Insull complained that secrecy about his case handicapped defense preparations, but otherwise refused to make a statement.

The Athens authorities went through Mr. Insull's apartments and took away some papers. They said this was purely a routine matter of no consequence.

Food Is Costing
More In Country

Washington, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Food is costing more throughout the country this month, but the recent upward price trend has slowed its rate of advance.

Labor Department officials studied retail food prices reported by 51 cities and their conclusion was that while the general level rose more than 8 per cent between June 15 and July 15, the increase in August was only two per cent.

Today's prices at the retail grocery were said by the department to be back to the approximate level of February, 1932, and 18 per cent above April's prices, this year's low.

Of the 42 commodities included in the survey, 32 were priced higher this month, eight were lower and two unchanged. The increases reached 46 of the 51 reporting cities.

Fayette Co. Jail
Break Frustrated

Vandalia, Ill., Aug. 28.—(AP)—An attempt of 11 prisoners in the Fayette county jail to escape by prying off a sheet of wall plate and tunneling through a brick wall was frustrated here last evening.

Sheriff Will Green, after overhearing a suspicious conversation, laid a trap for the prisoners and called in the aid of deputies and four guards from the state penitentiary. The prisoners were caught in a corridor in the act of removing bricks from the wall.

Three of the 11 escaped a month ago from the penitentiary after clubbing Leslie Snodgrass, a guard, and are being held in the county jail for assault with intent to murder.

Cause Of Gas Explosion At Whiting Is Uncertain

Whiting, Ind., Aug. 28.—(AP)—A gas explosion injured 19 workmen, one fatally, today in the Whiting plant of the Standard Oil Co. of Indiana.

A sudden spurt of flame from a gas tank that had been shut down for repairs caught the men who were nearest it. About 50 others, warned by a shout from A. C. Wheeler, a superintendent, who detected the odor of the gas, dashed to safety.

First aid crews from the plant and the workmen who escaped bundled eleven of the most seriously burned into ambulances. They were taken to St. Catherine's hospital at East Chicago, where one died several hours later.

There was no fire following the blast and plant officials said damage to equipment was negligible. An inquiry was started to determine the cause of the gas leakage.

One of the most seriously burned was A. R. Weiss of Huntington Park, Calif., an engineer for the Pacific Pump Co., of which his brother is president. Mrs. Weiss was notified and was reported en route here by plane. Weiss may have been fatally burned.

TRIAL OF JAP

Of Premier On His
"Betrayal"

Tokyo, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The state began summations today in the court martial of 11 officers charged with participation in the assassination last May of Premier Inokuma and accompanying acts of terrorism.

Direct testimony ended and defense attorneys used as the principal theme of their pleas that American support of the London naval treaty justified the young Japanese cadets in their conviction that Japanese leaders' acceptance of the treaty constituted a national betrayal.

Pursuing the argument stressed by the defense since the trial began 18 days ago, that indignation over this "national betrayal" largely justified the accused men in their "patriotic crimes," attorneys offered as evidence a copy of the stenographic minutes of the American Senate's Foreign Relations committee debate concerning the treaty in 1930.

Lieut. Hiroshi Yamagishi, the last of the accused to testify, dramatically concluded with the argument that Japanese naval leaders had the right to obtain all the strength they deemed necessary for the safety of the empire and that they must never be limited by civilian authorities.

"If the Constitution of the Empire opposes this stand," he said, "then the Constitution must be altered."

GAS, ELECTRIC COMPANIES ARE
TO MAKE REPORTFinancial Statements
Each Month Orders
Of Commission

Chicago, Aug. 28.—(AP)—The Illinois Commerce Commission today ordered all gas and electric utility companies in the state to furnish the commission with monthly financial reports.

It was indicated the reports would be used as evidence in rate making. They will enable the commission to keep an "up-to-the-minute" check on the business being done by utilities," said Chairman Benjamin F. Lindheimer of the commission.

The ruling required that the utilities show income for the current month and for 11 previous months. Transactions with affiliated companies and income from sale of gas or electricity to domestic, commercial and power users must be shown in separate columns.

"The statements also are to show operating expense, amounts of taxes paid, uncollectable bills, dividends, charges made on surplus accounts and other information," the commission stated.

"We expect the new rule will give the commission a comprehensive picture of the effects of rate reductions. The commission will know at a glance whether the business of a particular corporation is on the increase or decrease."

Highway This Morn

Geneseo, Ill., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Five Omaha tourists enroute to the World's Fair at Chicago surrendered $120, two watches, and their luggage to five robbers near here early today. The victims were Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Huffman, and a daughter of the Huffmans. They borrowed $15 from William Stuhler, a farmer and continued toward Chicago after replacing an Igniter distributor which the bandits removed to prevent immediate pursuit. Huffman said he was a foreman for an Omaha street car and motor bus company.

Action Is Needed

Hon. John T. Buckbee and Hon. Leo E. Allen have been tireless in their efforts to put the useful and necessary project over. They say it can be done if their constituents are sold on it. Resolutions by city authorities and Chambers of Commerce, also personal letters should be sent to them at once as the NRA fund of $3,000,000.00 is now over one-third allocated by the Hon. Harold I. Ickes of Chicago, Secretary of the Interior.

Secretary Ickes is the "key man" of the Recovery Act. He prefers Federal projects. This is a Federal project. Interview of August 19 in Chicago Examiner with Secretary Ickes.

Federal projects were selected first. Ickes said, "to open protected avenues where funds would not be misused. For every man employed on a project, two others behind the lines get jobs. This is a tremendous stimulus to business. There shall be no misuse of the funds, no waste and no extravagance. Many unqualified projects will never be approved despite the pressure extended."

The project is self liquidating. Cost at Sterling, $63,502.00. Cost at Dixon, $194,865.00. Cost at Grand Detour, $1,907,325.00. Cost at Byron, $385,583.00. Payment for Oregon dam to be removed.

Cemetery Endowment Funds Can Not Be Legally Used On Roads,
City Attorney Gannon Decides

City Attorney Martin Gannon, at the request of city officials, has rendered an opinion relative to the action taken by the city council by a vote of 3 to 2 last Monday evening to use the Oakwood cemetery endowment fund to defray the cost of improving roads in the cemetery, which action was opposed by Commissioners George Campbell and Cal G. Tyler. The opinion of City Attorney Gannon holds that the city council by the passage of the resolution did not have the power to direct the transfer of the endowment fund for this purpose.

"It is perfectly clear that the money which has accumulated in this endowment fund can be expended only for the care and maintenance of said endowed lots," the opinion states. "It cannot be used for any other purpose. Should the superintendent of the cemetery build, widen or repair roads abutting these endowed lots, perhaps in that event, a charge could be made against these lots for part of the costs of said improvement or repairs, as I believe that such improvements or repairs would come within the provision, 'care and maintenance.'"

The opinion of City Attorney Gannon further contains the entire city ordinance providing for the creation of the Oakwood cemetery endowment fund. At last week's regular meeting of the council Dixon and Commissioner Loftus and Moeller voted for the passage of the resolution that the endowment fund be used for the payment of the expense of improving the roadways in the cemetery. Commissioners Campbell and Tyler opposed the action.

After a gun battle in which he used three guns and ammunition from stock of the Burr sporting goods store in Rockford, in which he was trapped Sunday morning, a burglar was shot dead after he had wounded plainclothes Patrolman Ralph Johnson, three times.

Johnson shot the burglar, as he fell wounded with two bullets in the leg and a shot in the chest. The officer's shot drilled the burglar's head, but police reinforcements who rushed to the store shot the gunman eleven more times before they climbed to the roof balcony, where he had taken refuge, to satisfy themselves that he was dead.

Found Door Forced

A. W. Burr, owner of the store at 213 S. Main st., in the heart of the business district, found the rear door had been forced when he came to open for the day.

He walked through the store and out the front door, locking it behind him, and called police. Johnson came over with Detective Clifford Hand.

Neglecting to search the balcony the officers failed to find the burglar, but another call from Burr brought them hurrying back.

As they entered the door, the burglar, crouching on the balcony with extra guns laid out beside him, began firing and Detective Johnson fell wounded, firing as he dropped. Although there was no answering fire from the balcony, reserves poured a hail of bullets at the gunman, who was evidently already dead, before they ascended the stairs.

The robber was wearing a suit of clothes he had stolen from the place, had taken $35 from the cash register and seized three pistols.

The fire broke out early evening and was witnessed by thousands of persons on Navy Pier and the shore. The loss was estimated at $75,000.

TIMOTHY CROWE,

Sanitary District,
Died This Morn

Chicago, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Timothy J. Crowe, former president of the Sanitary District of Chicago and convicted of participating in its $5,000,000 orgy of mispending, died today at his summer home in Williams Bay, Wis.

He had been suffering from diabetes for some time. A heart attack with the immediate cause of death.

Crowe, formerly president of a suburban bank closed several years ago, rose to leadership in west side Democratic politics and became president of the Sanitary District Board in an era notorious for its graft. With associates on the board he was convicted of conspiracy and sentenced to one to five years in prison, but an appeal still pending prevented his imprisonment.

Crowe's political career was ended after the prosecution.

Three years ago the Federal Internal Revenue Bureau filed a lien against Crowe's estate to insure settlement of a claim of $448,580 for delinquent income taxes.

Members of Crowe's family were with him when he died. The body will be brought to Chicago for burial.

Crowe was 58 years old. A former street car conductor, he gained wealth in real estate and advanced in politics from a start as ward committeeman.

Flew Upside Down
From St. Louis To Joliet On Sunday

Chicago, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Aviators with a penchant for flying upside down had a new world's record to aim at today following the inverted flight of Lieut. Tito Falconi from St. Louis to Joliet, Ill.

Falconi set the record yesterday when he piloted his plane, with his head dangling earthward, for three hours, six minutes and 39 hours. The upside down record previously was held by Milo G. Burcham of Long Beach, Calif., who flew that way for two hours and 20 minutes.

After a brief stop at Joliet, Lieut. Falconi took to the air again, flipped his machine over and flew to Chicago, soaring over World's Fair crowds before landing at an airport.

For an hour of the flight to Joliet all that held him in the plane were two straps, he said. A third strap broke. Aside from a stiff shoulder Falconi apparently suffered no ill effects from the experience.

What Project Is

Hon. John T. Buckbee, in the river and harbor bill of 1930 got appropriation for survey as follows:

"Rock River, Illinois, from the water power dam at Rockford to the dam at the head of the feeder of the Illinois and Mississippi canal at or near Sterling, thence by way of the canal feeder to the Illinois and Mississippi canal with a view to securing a navigable channel nine feet in depth and of suitable width."

This survey was a thorough one. If the project is approved there will be no delay. The dirt will be flying soon.

How Leo T. Allen, Galena Congressman writes, June 8, 1933:

"When the bill or law is put into operation I shall be very glad to cooperate with Congressman Buckbee and other House members and Senators who might be concerned in such improvement. I shall be pleased to see Rock River opened for navigation from the Mississippi to Rockford and even further up into Wisconsin. The carrying out of such project would aid materially in solving the unemployed problem and it would aid commerce and trade to a great degree."

Ruth Hanna Simms' letter says in part:

"As the owner of a farm which is divided by the river and as a resident voter of the Thirteenth congressional district I naturally am deeply interested in whatever the people of that district want. As a matter of fact I see no reason why I should not support the plan outlined in the clipping which you enclose. You doubtless know that I have been an active supporter of waterway legislation and nobody regrets more than I the fact that development has been permitted to lag."

Henry Ford Silent On Automobile Code

Washington, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Despite the promulgation last night by President Roosevelt of an NRA code for the automobile industry, Henry Ford today still had not indicated his attitude.

Referring to reports that the Detroit manufacturer intended placing in effect maximum hour-minimum wage scales more beneficial to labor than those provided in the code drafted by the National Automobile Chamber of Commerce, it was pointed out by NRA officials that he could not use the blue eagle without signing the general agreement.

The law provides that once a code is made effective, it shall be applicable to the entire industry or any sub-division thereof. The wages in the charter are minimum wages, it was said, and even should Ford order higher wages it still would be necessary for him to accept the code to display the NRA insignia.

WOODS IN WINTER

WHEN winter woods are piercing chill. And through the hawthorn blows the gale, With solemn feet I tread the hill, That overflows the lonely vale.

O'er the bare upland, and away
Thru' the long reach of desert woods,
The embracing sunbeams chastely play,
And gladden these deep solitudes.

Where, twisted round the barren oak,
The summer vine in beauty clung
And summer winds the stillness broke,
The crystal icicle is hung.

Where, from their frozen urns,
Mute springs
Pour out the river's gradual tide
Shrilly the skater's iron rings,
And voices fill the woodland side.

Alas! how changed from the fair scene,
When birds sang out their mellow lay,
And winds were soft, and woods were green,
And the song ceased not with the day.

Chill airs and wintry winds, my ear
Has grown familiar with your song:
I hear it in the opening year—
I listen, and it cheers me along.
—Henry W. Longfellow.

Like Sophistication
In Its Entertainment

St. Louis, Aug. 28.—(AP)—While crinoline and top hats of the last century are enjoyable to St. Louis opera audiences, they expressed a preference this summer for sophistication in their chief summer entertainment—the municipal opera.

"The Cat and the Fiddle," the most modern and sophisticated production attempted on the municipal opera stage, drew the heaviest attendance of the season which closed last night.

The play attracted 67,763 persons in the week it ran. "The Student Prince" was second with 67,637, and "The Desert Song" was third with 66,728.

The opera set a new record in season attendance, by attracting 713,897 persons in eighty-two performances, which was 43,123 better than last season and 26,121 more than the previous high year of 1931.

The opera closed the season with a slight surplus, as contrasted with a $4600 loss in 1932. Operating costs were reduced some this year.

Breakfast for
Dept. Chairmen

The officers of the Woman's Club entertained the chairmen of the various departments of the club at a 9 o'clock breakfast at the home of Mrs. Lester Street on Jefferson Ave., Friday morning.

The breakfast was followed by a short business meeting.

A brief outline of the programs for the year was given by the program chairman.

The ensuing year promises to be one of much interest and activity for the club.

Meeting of W.C.T.U.
Held on Wednesday

The regular monthly meeting of the W. C. T. U. was held Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Hobbs, it was also the annual picnic and election of officers.

The meeting opened at 3 o'clock, the president presiding. Song, "Advance, Not Retreat," with Mrs. Mary Lee as pianist. Mrs. Belle Morris led the devotion, reading a beautiful poem, "What Are You Here For?" Also reading Psalm 144 and the 2nd Chapter of James, which were very fitting and appropriate for the rest of the meeting. Mrs. Alice Missman and the president followed with prayers all repeating the Lord's prayer.

Miss Flora Seals, secretary, gave her report.

Mrs. Helita Frey, treasurer gave her report.

Collection was taken. The election of officers for next year's work resulted in the re-election of last year's officers, as follows:

President, Miss Callie B. Morgan
Vice President, Mrs. Maud Hobbs
Second Vice Pres., Mrs. Meriam Mabon
Recording Sec., Miss Flora Seals
Corres. Sec., Miss Kate Plant
Treasurer, Mrs. Thetia Frey.

Miss Flora Seals read a very interesting article from the "Union Signal," "Why the Vote for Repeal," which was timely and fitting to the situation as we are now situated by the repeal of states.

The president read some very good things in regard to our W. C. T. U. work. Mrs. Hobbs gave a poem, "Will You Walk Into My Parlor," (better known now as our modern saloon).

Miss Kate Plant gave a reading by William H. Phelps, "The Saloon Comes Back on the Eve of Mother's Day," which was very sad but truthful under existing conditions, and was a personal proclamation by Mr. Phelps.

Mrs. C. E. Hill gave an interesting article on our newly elected President.

Mrs. Anna Bennett closed the meeting with prayer.

A social hour and the picnic luncheon were very much enjoyed by the members and friends.

The members always look forward to the meeting and picnics with Mrs. Hobbs, as it is one of our most delightful meetings of the year. This meeting was very much enjoyed.

Their many old friends in Dixon were delighted to greet them here.

George M. Cohan to Star In Play Written by Eugene O'Neill

New York, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Joy and sorrow have struck a bargain on Broadway.

George M. Cohan, song-and-dance-man in whose hands even melodrama turns into a guffaw, has said "you bet" to an offer to star in a new play by Eugene O'Neill, who concerns himself with the darker depths of the heart and mind.

"Magnificent," said dancer-actor-dramatist-producer-manager-composer-lyricist Cohan as he read the script of "Ah, Wilderness," the O'Neill opus of thus far unrevealed content which the theatre Guild plans to put on in October. Then he signed a contract, and dashed off to the ball game, giving on clearer explanation of this five-star event in the theatre than:

"Well, I guess they just needed a good song and dance man."

Cohan has been in the theatre some 40 years and this will be the first time, except for a war benefit, that he has appeared in a play in the writing of which he had no share.

If the mask of comedy on one side of the proscenium should cross over and start chumming around with tragedy, Broadway would not have been more astonished, O'Neill, in winning his way to a position where many critics call him America's "first dramatist," has had little to do with joy and laughter. Such things as New England tragedy cast in classical mould, or a stoker battling against society and being crushed in the grip of a hairy ape—these have been his interests. They say that even as a young man arriving at Harvard with a batch of stark playlets in his bag, the lines of his face were already forming into the sombre mask it presents today.

Cohan's face is quizzical, genial. A boy prodigy at 5, he went on to become America's embodiment of gay, rhythmic joy in the theatre—and to set a warning nation marching to the tune "Over There."

He says that next year, maybe O'Neill will act in one of his plays.

Wawokiye Club and Families Picnic Sun.

The Wawokiye club members and their families held their annual picnic Sunday, Aug. 27 at the Lester Hoyle cottage along the river.

Fried chicken along with other good things to eat made the dinner hour most enjoyable.

Ice cream was served in the afternoon and the bottom of the ice cream container was not seen till every one was satisfied and ready to go home. A ball game was in progress all afternoon. Most of the participants had not played ball for years which made the game all the more enjoyable to the spectators, altho some of the older players were most fearful that the next morning would find them in a most sorrowful condition due to their strenuous exercise.

Most of the guests stopped at the Lester Hoyle home to see the museum of animals, birds, snakes, etc. which their son has erected and filled. This feature of the day was most interesting.

The Wawokiye club extends its appreciation to the Hoyle family for the pleasant day spent at their picnic grounds.

Club Hold Meeting

Games were played on the lawn and refreshments served. The hostesses' mother, Mrs. Ward Hartshorn baked a large birthday cake for her daughter. Her birthday will occur Sunday.

REVOLUTIONIZED LIFE.

The Engineering Foundation, in New York, recently set out to discover just how unemployment affects the morale and the ideals of men who are out of work.

It learned, oddly enough, that engineers as a class are not filled with radical notions when they lose their jobs. They get resentful and discouraged, naturally—but they don't swing off toward Communism or similar panaceas, as some jobless men do. Most of them are content to have the old system continue. All they want is to get their jobs back.

And all of this simply shows how little meaning that word "radicalism" really has nowadays. Engineers are generally ultra-conservative in their political and economic beliefs. This survey has shown that they mostly stay that way even under the pressure of unemployment. And yet engineers as a class probably have done more to change our form of society, our scheme of government and our economic organization than any other class alive.

To be sure, they have done it without in the least intending to. But they have done it, just the same, and they will continue to do so for a long time to come.

The engineering which gave us railroads and steamboats made it possible for the United States to expand over a continent without splitting up into a group of independent nations. It was engineering that doomed Jefferson's dream of a land of small farmers and small cities; engineering that gave the south a cotton empire; engineering that developed our big cities, exploited our mines and gave us our factory civilization.

It was the engineer, blithely thinking of nothing on earth except the age-old problem of how to get the most work done with the least energy, who gave us mass production, automobiles, electric power, modern communications and a network of good highways. And in giving us all of these things he set in motion forces which have changed our form of society almost beyond comprehension and bid fair to make equal changes in the future.

The engineer is not "radical," it seems. Well, why should he be? He ignores politics, economics and sociology—and remakes all three of those perplexing sciences overnight.

He may think he is the very essence of conservatism; and yet he sows the seeds of greater changes than all the long-haired theorists that ever lived.

LET HITLER SPEAK.

An American publishing company is about to issue a book written by none other than Adolf Hitler; and it is hardly surprising that the American Hebrew and Jewish Tribune has printed an editorial assailing the publishers for the step, charging them with "an attempt to cash in on the misery and catastrophe of an important section of the human family."

But although it is easy to understand this protest, it is necessary to point out that to try to stop publication or circulation of this book would be to commit the very error which Hitler himself has committed. Hitler shocked free people everywhere by suppressing books of which he did not approve; a Jewish organization that tried to suppress his book would be following squarely in his footsteps.

The very essence of free speech is that you are obliged to let your bitterest enemy speak his mind freely, no matter how violently you are opposed to what he says.

STRANGER THAN FICTION.

The freakish ways in which criminals are sometimes brought to book can, occasionally, outdo the most far-fetched inventions of the novelist.

Consider, for example, the way in which the government was able to round up the Harvey Bailey gang in Texas.

Young Charles F. Urschel, Oklahoma oil man, was kidnapped and held prisoner in a Texas farm house. He had no idea where he was, but he noticed that every morning and every evening an airplane flew over the house. One morning it failed to show up. So, when he was freed, and had told his story, it was a simple matter for the detectives to find out what airplane line was involved, to discover just what deviation in the scheduled flight had taken place on that particular morning, and, in that way, to locate the neighborhood in which Urschel had been held prisoner.

A dangerous bandit gang rounded up because an airplane had to make a detour one day to avoid bad weather—would any novelist dare invent anything as far-fetched as that?

Thearts, intimidation, compulsion, boycotts, blacklists and suppression of opinion were never contemplated by the NRA and therefore have no rightful place in the picture.—Al Smith.

I feel that our chances of going through with this marriage are better than those of people of the same age. Divorce statistic bear me out.—Dr. Arthur S. Baker, 51, of Los Angeles, who married a 14-year-old girl.

The diver had been waiting long. Said he, "I hope that nothing's wrong. That little fellow, Duncy, said he'd find my treasure chest."

"I must get it at any cost. I need the gold that I have lost. Well, I will wait a little while. The lad will do his best."

"I made it very clear that he should jerk the rope, to signal me. I haven't felt a thing yet, but I still have lots of hope."

And then the old man closed his eyes. Of course he didn't realize that he was going to fall asleep, while clinging to the rope.

The treasure chest, far, far below, was all tied up and set to go. "Hey, wait, before you give the signal," Scoutly loudly cried.

"I'd like to get out of the sea. If you're all game to go with me, I would suggest that Duncy, on that big chest, take a ride."

Then he will meet the diver, who can likely tell us what to do, to get out of the water. What do all you Times say? "Well, all I need to do is give the rope a jerk and then hang on real tight."

"The diver was so kind before. I know he will be kind some more. Wait here until you hear from me. I'll soon be out of sight."

He pulled the rope and jumped aboard. "He's off," one of the Tintles roared. The jerk woke up the diver, who was tickled as could be.

"Here's where I get my chest," he cried, "and all my gold will be inside." Then he began to pull the big chest up out of the sea.

Sidelights In News In Capital
Of United States

BY HERBERT PLUMMER

WASHINGTON—Apparently, at least one of the G. O. P. leaders is getting a bit impatient at the campaign of silence now being waged by his party and intends to do something about it.

He is Senator Dickinson. The white-haired Iowa, who entered the Senate in 1931 after long service in the House, is not a great believer in such things as political tricks.

There has been a conspicuous difference between the Republican strategy following the smashing Roosevelt victory last November and that pursued by the Democrats four years ago.

Democratic Chairman Raskob established headquarters in Washington, brought Charlie Michelson in, and launched one of the most vigorous publicity offensives against the G. O. P. ever known before.

THE MACHINERY'S THERE—

Everett Sanders of the Republican national committee has a publicity set-up in his headquarters here, headed by J. Cal O'Laughlin, a veteran newspaperman, but the Republican idea seems to be "hat a policy of watchful waiting is the best."

The necessary machinery has been installed to take advantage of possible Democratic blunders and the breaks in the political game. The economic situation and the popular prestige of President Roosevelt at present hold them in check.

Not so with Senator Dickinson. In the 1932 campaign he was entrusted with the task of seeing that 12 Republican Senators were elected in the central states. When the Republican senatorial elections committee for 1934 is set up, he'll play an important part.

There are 17 Republican Senators who must stand for re-election next year.

PRELIMINARY SKIRMISH—So, in Chicago, the other day Dickinson made a speech that might well be put down at defining some of the issues that will be fought out in the congressional elections of next year.

"Recovery in industry," said the Senator, "will be more certain and business more stable if permitted to return to its old channels of activity."

Referring to the present governmental expenditures, he said expected income will not be adequate to meet them.

Currency stabilization, he said, "is an all-important factor."

And, he concluded, as an umpire in economic disputes, the government will be either "politely ignored or driven from the field by a pop bottle barrage of conflict of interests."

Everyday Religion

SO THIS IS SCIENCE!

By Dr. Joseph Fort Newton

A report of a meeting of men of science today reads like a chapter from Alice in Wonderland; only more so. No set of theologians could tell such tales and get away with it. But it is the fashion to swallow science whole, and we do it on faith, too.

Who said that the age of faith is long gone by? Today it is laid down as basic that nothing is certain but uncertainty—by science, too! Only a few years ago we were told that science is all fact, and religion all faith, but today that is upset and out of date.

Facts are flying things, it seems, and it is hard to put salt on their tails. Even solid matter has melted into whirling energy, and the materialist is up in the air. Literally so, because he had nothing to stand on. He must be an electrician, not nothing at all!

But, stranger still, Platon tells us that life is not real; it is merely dreamed. But that is old stuff. Plato said it ages ago under the blue skies of Greece. And before his time the Hindu dogma of Maya—illusion—held sway. Did not Shakespeare say that we are such stuff as dreams are made of? Socrates thought so, too.

After all, maybe those old thinkers were not such fools as smart folk think! Even science shows that they hit the mark. Bohr, an authority on the atom, recently discovered "the inherent duality of things" and that the universe is a kind of Jekyll-Hyde affair. So the thinkers of India thought, and set it down in their great epic, "These two, light and darkness, are the eternal ways of the world," they said.

With which Plato agreed, as well as many another seer. But they saw deeper than science to the unity beneath duality, to the changeless reality behind the endless flux and reflux of life. Call it God, Spirit, the Absolute; it stands behind life, behind mind, perceiving all change, but itself abiding—the rhythm and reason of things.

If the progress of science goes on,

Kewanee, Ill., Aug. 26—(AP)—Bureau county authorities today were holding Frances Livingston, of Monmouth, Ill., for questioning in the death of John J. Stoehler, Jr., 37, killed at midnight last night in an auto accident between Wyandot and Princeton.

Stoehler, driving a freight line truck from Chicago, was crowded into the ditch. Miss Livingston told authorities her car was driven by a Chicago bus driver whom she had hired to drive her back from a visit to the Chicago fair. The

FUNGUS DISEASES

Athlete's foot made the fungi famous by bringing to public attention the fact that the fungi can and do produce disease. The medical profession has been acquainted with this fact for many years.

In 1677 Robert Hooke, an ingenious Englishman, noticed some yellow spots on the leaves of his roses. He inspected these yellow spots under a crudely constructed magnifying glass and found them to consist of small, filament-like plants. In other words, he found that the disease was caused by a fungus.

Langenbeck in 1839 discovered the first parasitic fungus disease in man, known as thrush. In quick succession other discoveries of a similar nature were made, and it was found that fungi were responsible for such diseases as favus, ringworm and pityriasis.

With the discovery of the disease-producing powers of germs, mycology, as the science of the study of fungi is called, was pushed into the background. In recent years, however, the subject of fungi and their capacities for producing morbid conditions has come to the fore. We have witnessed and we may further expect to see progress in this field.

Fungi are plants of simple cellular structure, filament or thread-like in shape. They are more complicated in structure than are bacteria or germs. They differ from the higher plant forms by growing in irregular masses and they do not possess roots, stems and leaves.

The fungi are also without chlorophyll and hence are parasitic. The chlorophyll-producing plants can build up their food from the carbon dioxide of the air. The fungi, being without chlorophyll, must obtain their food from organic matter.

The fungi are divided into three classes: the parasitic fungi, which obtain their nourishment from living animals or plants; the saprophytic fungi, which obtain their food from dead or decaying matter; and the facultative fungi, which may thrive and multiply on either dead or living matter.

ROLLED WHILE YOU WAIT

THIS street-corner cigar-maker down in Panama rolls them while you wait—and incidentally gives the inquisitive smoker an opportunity to satisfy his curiosity, as well as his hunger for a smoke. Street scenes in the Canal terminals are unusually varied, for in these cities—lying at the crossroads of the world—streets are thronged with representatives of almost every race on the globe and shops offer merchandise from the far corners of the earth.

Strolling down Santa Ana way in Panama City one finds offered for sale furs from the Arctic, and emeralds from South America, beautiful oriental merchandise from the East, and the most modern gadgets the West has produced. French shopkeepers sell fine soaps and precious perfumes; Italians, their Florentine ware; Spaniards, their famous shawls; Chinese, Japanese, Turks, and even Hindus, the colorful kimonos, sandals, pajamas, teakwood and jade for which their lands are noted.

This pageant of races presented by the itinerary of the New York-Panama Canal-Central America-California cruises is one feature of these weekly trips that is contributing to their increasing popularity. Diversions, also, in the Canal Zone are delightfully varied. They include dancing and dining Spanish-style in smart hotels and clubs; and midnight parties in Panama City's popular cabarets; golf, swimming, horse-racing and also whippet-racing. And for the sportsman who can spend the time necessary for such excursions there are deer and grouse hunts, duck-shooting—and tarpon fishing that furnishes real live material for whopping big stories with which to regale one's fishermen friends back home.

How old do you think that little old man of the ring, Billy Petrolle, is? The answer is 28. John Kilpatrick, new head of Madison Square Garden, set a 45-yard hurdle record at Andover that lasted for 25 years. The same John now weighs a bit over 200 pounds.

When Lou Gehrig joined the Yankees he was placed on the bench. He was asked Miller Huggins to be sent to St. Paul in the deal for Koenig because he wanted to play ball. Donie Bush is all set for another year as manager of the dear old Reds.

THANKS, HORNSBY

That looked like a good break for Sam Gray of the Browns. Being waived to Washington and what looks like a world series. The Washington pitching staff by the way, has been standing up pretty well under a lot of punishment starting pitchers being sent to the bullpen day after day. And doing relief work. Which has ruined better stuff than that of the Senators. Then he was sent back.

Recent letters ask if I'm still sticking to the idea that Pittsburgh will win the pennant. And answer is yes. And September will prove it. New York's grandstand managers are casting aspersions at McCarthy's handling of the Yanks. All will the material and money in the world at his disposal, but with a ball club that has acquired self-folding attachments and last year at this time, with the Yanks far ahead, they were saying that the same McCarthy was pretty hot stuff.

QUEEN HELEN II IS ACCLAIMED AS RULER OF TENNIS

42 RUNS SHORT

The Red Sox and Tigers tied up the other day in the number of ball games lost by one run. Each club having dropped 21 tilts that way. Somebody ought to devise a suit of armor for polo players. The game is beginning to rival hockey for roughness. Cecil Smith, all bruised up, was the lion of the polo crowds at Chicago. Tommy Hitchcock must have been lonesome for the cheers he always received on eastern fields.

Babe Herman's old record of missing a fly ball by 50 feet was knocked askew by Dixie Walker. Yank outfielder, the other day. Walker came dashing in for a ball hit by Rollie Hemsley and encamped to catch it. The ball fell only 30 yards behind him.

While Withdrawal Of Helen The First Is Discussed

BY ALAN GOULD

Associated Press Sports Editor

New York, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Beaten for the first time since 1922 in American tennis championship competition, Helen Wills Moody was California bound for home today, leaving a flock of controversial echoes in the wake of the history-making match she defaulted in the third set to Helen Hull Jacobs, for the national women's title.

The circumstances marking the end of Queen Helen the First's long reign at Forest Hills Saturday added a dramatic and extraordinary chapter to the annals of the sport. Unquestionably they lifted "Helen the Second" to the throne room of women's tennis for 1933, as she won her second successive national championship. Yet it may be a long time before tennis fans or critics are satisfied as to what extent Mrs. Moody's ailments contributed to her downfall, or whether she might have found sufficient reserve to finish, after losing the first three games of the final set.

Battle of Invalids

*Isn't it
the TRUTH?*

My Home used to be my castle, where I could live without annoyance—When the door bell rang I could expect a friend or neighbor. But that is not so any more, with solicitors, agents, peddlers, ringing my door doorbell from early morning—yes, even 'till late in the evening using "something free" or smart story methods to gain admission to my home. In fact says the Prudent Housewife and Miss Thrifty Shopper—"I am pestered with peddlers trying their specialty sales arguments on me every day of the week until they have become a NUISANCE."

WHO ARE BELL RINGERS?

As a Rule many are *Floater*s---here today and gone tomorrow. They are NOT responsible financially, morally or otherwise. They are NOT taxpayers or voters in any community. Where a local citizen is representing a house-to-house selling firm, he or she secures the majority of business thru the friendly sympathy racket and NOT on the merits of the product. This condition is OVERWORKED in every community---and Master Peddlers are always looking for this class of representative.

Many Are Irresponsible. Men who cannot hold a position of any responsibility for any length of time---and continually float from one job to another. The large number of classified ads reading "Agents Wanted---Canvassers---Peddlers---Solicitors---Representatives to sell from house-to-house" confirms the uncertainty of the peddler.

If a Strange Man Came to Your Door---with nothing to sell---asking for permission to come into your home---WOULD YOU LET HIM IN?

Do Not Confuse
Representatives of Local Institutions with the Itinerant Peddler

Representatives of legitimate local business houses, who are furnishing employment to local people, paying local taxes, are entitled to an interview. Protect yourself! Ask the man who calls at your house, for credentials from local institutions.

Can You Afford to Take a Chance?

What Values Have These Peddlers To Offer?

Do you always receive THE SAME QUALITY as in sample shown? A large majority of these Peddlers are representing firms which go into the wholesale market and buy SECONDS—IMPERFECTS paying equally as much as your merchant does for perfect standards. When the merchandise you ordered from the peddler arrives—and it DOES NOT PROVE SATISFACTORY—Can You Get Your Money Back? Try to locate the clever salesman who collected your deposit.

A Warning From the Chief of Police to the Citizens and Housewives of Dixon . .

THIS IS A WARNING TO BEWARE OF STRANGERS, POSING AS SOLICITORS, SALESMEN, or INSPECTORS:

Strangers seeking admittance to your homes SHOULD NOT BE ADMITTED UNTIL THEIR CREDENTIALS HAVE BEEN CHECKED UP AND VERIFIED * * AND THAT YOU ARE SURE THEY ARE LOCAL DIXON CITIZENS OR REPRESENTATIVES OF SOME LOCAL BUSINESS FIRM. IN MANY CASES strangers WITHOUT RELIABLE CREDENTIALS are "spotters or locators" for professional criminals, and according to police records lack of caution on the part of the householders in admitting strangers has often times resulted in costly property losses and bitter experiences.

DO NOT PAY CASH IN ADVANCE to strangers on an order—as in many cases THE CUSTOMER HAS NEVER RECEIVED ANYTHING for the cash down payment—nor any refund.

DO NOT CASH CHECKS FOR STRANGERS or issue a check as a down-payment on an order to a stranger. Often times these checks have been "altered" and later cashed by an innocent party. This part of this warning is issued both to business men as well as householders.

ITS BETTER TO BE SAFE THAN SORRY * * be SURE you know WHO THE STRANGER IS AT YOUR DOOR—ask for identifications.

IN CASE YOU ARE SUSPICIOUS—PHONE THE POLICE AT ONCE—do NOT delay in this as we are anxious to co-operate with our citizens at all times.

HIGH PRESSURE FREE GIFT ARTISTS have been working in the residence district of Dixon lately—offering "something free!" as a means of gaining admittance. In MOST CASES there is nothing to be given away free.

ONE NEED NOT BE AFRAID of offending a Local Citizen of Dixon calling at your home—or a Representative of a Dixon Business Firm.

J. D. VAN BIBBER, Chief of Police.

DISPOSITION OF WHEAT SURPLUS MAJOR PROBLEM

Administrators of Farms
Hear Some Growers
Will Plant More

Washington, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Disposition of America's bulging wheat crops popped up as a major problem again today despite action by nature. The Agricultural Adjustment Administration, and more than a score of governments in signing at London a pact to cut down production and reopen foreign markets.

While one group in the Agriculture Department sought to speed up the campaign to reduce American wheat acreage, from another came word that two of the nation's largest producing areas will have vast "exportable surplus" this year—the Pacific northwest and the southwest.

Meanwhile the export movement of wheat has slowed down to a mere trickle compared with years past and doubts have arisen whether the wheat acreage reduction plan will offset unofficial reports that farmers not joining in it contemplate increasing their production.

Many May Expand
Reports are coming to farm administrators that many farmers, tempted by better prices for wheat and the drafting of both national and international policies to improve the position of wheat growers, hope to "cash in" by expanding their production.

Pending a study of the London agreement, administrators are withholding a decision on their plans for subsidizing exports of the grain. They have looked to China as an outlet but still another group reported that "there is no immediate interest in buying foreign wheat" there.

Exports Limited
The Bureau of Agricultural Economics estimated the "exportable surplus" at 151,000,000 bushels, most of it in the Pacific northwest and southwest, after allowing 125,000,000 bushels as a minimum carryover after domestic needs have been met from the potential supply. It would have been much higher except that this year's crop is the lowest since 1893 estimated as less than 500,000,000 bushels. The July 1, carryover was 388,000,000.

Administrators expected word from London during the day of the signing of a supplement to the wheat agreement specifying the limit on American exports during the year which started August 1.

NEWS CHURCHES

CHRISTIAN CHURCH
In the absence of the Pastor, who is holding a two weeks revival at Martinsville, Ill., Rev. M. C. Neer preached at the morning service.

The Bible School had an attendance of about 280.

The True Blue Class of the Bible School will hold a business meeting on Thursday evening at 7 o'clock at the country home of Mrs. Ella Bennett. A good attendance is desired and expected.

Brother Neer will conduct a Bible study on Wednesday evening at the prayer meeting hour. Rev. C. R. Stauffer of Atlanta, Ga., is expected to be in Dixon for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Stauffer, 215 Lincoln Way, over the week end and will preach next Lord's Day morning.

Ronald Reagan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Reagan, who is announcer for Station WOC at Des Moines, Iowa, is visiting his parents for a few days.

Miss Margaret Cleaver of Eureka, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Cleaver, former pastor of the Dixon Christian church, is here visiting friends for a few days. She reports that her mother, who has been seriously ill in a hospital at Peoria, is much improved and now at her home in Eureka.

Miss Olive Palmer, who has been attending Chicago University during the summer is here for a short visit with her mother, Mrs. A. L. Palmer, of North Brinton Ave.

Child of War Slays Bandit

Rose Ruda's smile belies her bravery. The 18-year-old Cincinnati waitress, who was born behind the battle lines in Belgium, daughter of a German soldier and Belgian mother, shot and killed a bandit who attempted to hold up the restaurant where she was working. Rose was wounded in the arm.

W. K. Maxwell, publisher of the Fullerton (Calif.) News-Tribune, says:

"Letting George do it" is the biggest weakness in the program of development in nine out of ten communities.

"If you will look over the average city of 1,000 to 25,000 population you will find that practically all the worth while effort to improve conditions, expand business and make life generally better is accomplished by one to three individuals. As often as not, the number is one instead of three. The trouble is that the average citizen is afraid either to spend his money or give his effort to do something. So commonly understood is this fact that 'being on a committee' means being a nonentity, and 'referring it to a committee' means burying it alive.

"Sodom, I believe it was, could have been saved from destruction if five righteous men could have been found in the city. Almost any town can be saved from dry rot if five actual workers can be enlisted in civic and business projects. The trouble is to find the five.

"Just how you can break men of this slacker spirit is rather hard to suggest. A sense of shame should make itself felt on any man who 'rides free' while somebody else is paying the cost. And a sense of enlightened self-interest should eventually percolate into the brain of the individual who hopes to profit all his life from the work of the other fellow while doing nothing himself.

"There should be, for every man who pretends to be concerned about the business and civic welfare of his community, a perpetual pointing finger which says by its gesture, 'THIS MEANS YOU!'

A BOOK A DAY

When you read, "The Plebeian Progress" by Frank Tisley, you feel that you are watching the slow death of an entire people.

This novel, which examines the industrial depression in England by tracing the fortunes of two helpless youngsters who got tangled in it, does not talk glibly about "economic forces" which cannot be controlled." It remarks bluntly that blind greed and appalling stupidity are responsible for England's plight, and it charges that the lower classes are being sacrificed wholesale to the cupidity of the capitalists.

The story is built up around the careers of Allen and Anne, a young married couple who are not in the least remarkable but who begin their life together with the high hopes that are the heritage of newlyweds everywhere.

They start as happy occupants of a pleasant suburban bungalow. Then, bit by bit, the depression destroys them. Allen's job goes first. They move into cheaper quarters. He tries frantically to find work, fails, goes on the dole, waits pathetically for a change in his luck—and, at last, slips over the edge into the abyss.

Mr. Tisley is not impressed by the beauties of England's system of unemployment relief. He shows us a system which destroys self-respect, robs life of its joy and does unpardonable things to the souls of the men and women it is designed to help. And he writes with a passion, a skill and a tenderness which make his book deeply convincing and profoundly touching.

BRAVES' STREAK OF VICTORIES IS FINALLY SNAPPED

But They Gained Half A Game On Giants In Sunday's Play

By HERBERT W. BARKER

Associated Press Sports Writer

Despite the snapping of their eight game winning streak, the Boston Braves, sensations of the National League, had clipped another half-game off the New York Giants' lead today and found themselves six games out of first place.

With a crowd of 40,000 urging them on, the Braves hung up their eighth successive win as Tom Zachary pitched a 7-0 shutout over the Cincinnati Reds in the first game of a doubleheader yesterday but the Reds came back to snare the second, 5-3.

Their even split still enabled the Braves to pick up half a game on the Giants who dropped the first game of a twin bill to Dizzy Dean and the St. Louis Cardinals, 7-1, and then a crowd of 40,000 urging them on, the Braves hung up their eighth successive win as Tom Zachary pitched a 7-0 shutout over the Cincinnati Reds in the first game of a doubleheader yesterday but the Reds came back to snare the second, 5-3.

The veteran Zachary turned in one of his most impressive performances as he blanked the Reds with four hits while his teammates clubbed Paul Derringer out of the box with a six-run attack in the fifth, Pinky Whitney's double being the big blow.

Dean stopped the Giants with six hits and fanned six in the opening game while his mates bombarded Hal Schumacher and Glenn Spencer for 12 safeties, one a homer by George Watkins. The Cards apparently had the second game won, but Fred Fitzsimmons parked a homer in the left field stands in the last half of the same frame to give the leaders a tie. A crowd of 50,000, biggest of the National League season, saw the double bill.

Cubs Split Bill
Brooklyn divided a double header with the Chicago Cubs, bowing 2-0 to the two-hit pitching of Guy Bush in the opener but winning the second, 5-2, on a 12-hit attack on the Cubs by Lefty Nello.

Cubs Split Bill
Brooklyn divided a double header with the Chicago Cubs, bowing 2-0 to the two-hit pitching of Guy Bush in the opener but winning the second, 5-2, on a 12-hit attack on the Cubs by Lefty Nello.

Dean stopped the Giants with six hits and fanned six in the opening game while his mates bombarded Hal Schumacher and Glenn Spencer for 12 safeties, one a homer by George Watkins. The Cards apparently had the second game won, but Fred Fitzsimmons parked a homer in the left field stands in the last half of the same frame to give the leaders a tie. A crowd of 50,000, biggest of the National League season, saw the double bill.

LEGION'S FOUR- POINT PROGRAM IS PRESENTED

Will Be Taken Up At The National Convention
In Chicago

Rockford, Ill., Aug. 28—(AP)—The Illinois Department of the American Legion in convention here today by National Commander Louis Johnson that it was the duty of every citizen, regardless of political allegiance, to support the government in its national recovery program.

The recovery administrator described the drive as "a milestone in human progress, explaining: "For the first time the American people have a chance to test in business a principle that they long ago proved in government. That principle is the little old slogan, 'In union there is strength.'"

But under the blue eagle was the watchword set by Johnson for his volunteers after warning that "even a shadow" of "boycott, intimidation and violence x x x would spoil this whole endeavor." He added:

Avoids Word "Boycott"
"But there must not be the slightest misunderstanding. It is not a boycott for the people of a distressed country to say they are going to stick to those who do their part to cure a common evil and to ignore those who refuse to do so. To do otherwise would be to frustrate the national purpose x x x."

When Johnson made his address last night he had just completed one of the NRA's biggest tasks and was deep in critical negotiations to try for completion of a second. The first was the automobile code which, now signed by President Roosevelt, will be binding on all industry, except the Ford Company, on November 5, the day after Labor Day. Ford, virtually the only non-signer, will have a further 10-day period to determine his course.

The second task was the attempt to secure an agreement between non-union coal operators and union labor upon a code for all the bituminous fields. Negotiations were at a standstill with both sides looking to Roosevelt and Johnson for the next move. The administration has, however, heretofore refused to impose a code if no agreement is reached.

Employers Win Point
The auto code as signed by the President contained the first declaration in any such agreement that employers should have the right to hire, fire and promote men, regardless of union, affiliation. After extended wrangling this was qualified with the declaration that it did not in any way modify the promise also made in the code, at the law's demand, that the auto employers shall have the right to organize without restraint from their bosses, and to bargain through representatives of their own choosing.

Johnson, talking to newsmen, said any idea that this phraseology was inserted to prevent unionization of the plants, "should be dispelled immediately." He said its purpose was to combat statements to the effect that no man could secure NRA benefits without joining a union.

Also, he said, its inclusion was not in any way to be regarded as a precedent for other codes, each of which would be judged upon the economic factors of that particular industry.

However, in industrial circles, there was an expectation of a regular rush to insert the same language in each code, and some talk even of such industries as steel and others already under the NRA asking for its inclusion in their codes.

May Cause Agreements
Such a move had been feared by the NRA's labor advisory board which, through William Green, president of the American Federation of Labor, accepted the auto code with the express proviso that the opera shop phrase do not become a precedent. Green and others vigorously but officials were reluctant to hazard upon what the clause could be denied to any non-union industry after its approval for automobiles.

This week, besides the blue eagle campaign, NRA has programmed the greatest number of hearings on codes yet called up in a single week. The majority, however, were for small industries which administrators believed could be shot through quickly. Awaiting disposal also was a code or codes for the retail trade, with a strong attempt being made by officials to bring the drug trade in with the numerous dry goods lines under one master agreement.

Christ Jesus was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, August 27.

The Golden Text was: "No man hath seen God at any time; the only begotten Son, which is in the bosom of the Father, he hath declared him" (John 1:18).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "For we have not followed cunningly devised men, when we made known unto you the power and coming of our Lord Jesus Christ, but were eye-witnesses of his majesty. For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, 'This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.'" (II Peter 1:16, 17).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Christ expresses God's spiritual, eternal nature. The name is synonymous with Messiah, and alludes to the spirituality which is taught, illustrated, and demonstrated in the life of which Christ Jesus was the embodiment" (p. 333).

VOLUNTEERS IN NRA CAMPAIGN LAUNCH DRIVES

Million And Half To Canvass Every City In United States

Washington, Aug. 28—(AP)—NRA volunteers—1,500,000 strong—opened today, under Hugh S. Johnson's mandate "we cannot afford to fail," a campaign to implant the blue eagle in every business house and in millions of homes.

Speeding this "greatest corps of volunteers in the country's history" on its door-to-door canvass, Johnson told his workers and the country that "either through codes or agreements we enter this drive with business, 70 and 80 per cent of the employers in trade and industry already for the blue eagle."

The recovery administrator described the drive as "a milestone in human progress, explaining: "For the first time the American people have a chance to test in business a principle that they long ago proved in government. That principle is the little old slogan, 'In union there is strength.'"

But under the blue eagle was the watchword set by Johnson for his volunteers after warning that "even a shadow" of "boycott, intimidation and violence x x x would spoil this whole endeavor." He added:

HEAD OF 'BRAIN TRUST' RETIRES FOR EDITORSHIP

Prof. Raymond Moley's Resignation Sent To President

Hyde Park, N. Y., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Raymond Moley, intimate of President Roosevelt and recent storm center of the administration, is going to edit a new national weekly to be published by Vincent Astor, another friend and distant relative of the Chief Executive.

The sudden retirement of the Columbia University professor and close adviser of the President was announced yesterday after a heart-to-heart talk between the two.

The first break in the official family of the President followed closely an almost open rupture in the State Department between Secretary Hull and Moley, the Assistant Secretary.

Roosevelt is very friendly to both Moley and Hull, and all the involved say everything is all right. Certainly there is no break in the friendship between the President and Moley, who has been the key man of his group of advisers during the last two years.

Appreciates Service
"I need not tell you," said Roosevelt in his letter accepting Moley's resignation, "that I appreciate and shall always remember your participation during these two years in the development of policies based on our common ideals. You have rendered a very definite service to your country, and your departure from an official position to undertake an editorship will give you opportunity to carry on the task in an equally wide field."

Moley was just as sincere in his letter of resignation which makes his retirement from office effective on September 7.

Of the new Astor-Moley publication, Astor who was also at the summer White House yesterday, said in a formal statement: "as we see it, there is now, as surely never before, a wide and useful field for a free, impartial, and vivid interpretation each week of the momentous changes taking place in our American life. There is also the need of a vehicle for the expression of those ideas and proposals that will tend to direct these forces along planned and progressive channels. To supply such a medium, dedicated to truly American ideals, we shall do our utmost."

Break Recalled
The departure of Moley from official service follows an interesting series of events. Moley was the lone man who accompanied Roosevelt to the White House last winter when President Hoover asked for a conference on war debts.

When Roosevelt took office, he was made Assistant Secretary of State. He consulted frequently at the White House. The London economic conference came along. Secretary Hull headed the American delegation. Moley went over as a special messenger for the President. Something happened over there that brought the differences of opinion between Hull and Moley to a climax.

The President, of course, stood by his Secretary of State. Upon his return Moley was transferred to a special assignment to study kidnapping and racketeering. He has been on that study for three weeks and separated from the State Department.

HULL DENIES ACTION

Washington, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Raymond Moley today was officially out of the State Department position from which his activities were shifted weeks ago, but Secretary Cordell Hull said his assistant's resignation was not at his suggestion.

From his mountain vacation place in Virginia Hull sent word to the press he "had no information beforehand that Professor Moley contemplated resigning" as Assistant Secretary of State. He further said in his formal statement:

"I may add that I can accurately say, in this connection, that I have not at any time offered the slightest suggestion to the President or Mr. Moley relative to any present or future change in the official status of the latter as Assistant Secretary of State."

"I wish Professor Moley every success in his new field and will at all times gladly cooperate with him in every feasible way, both in that field and all possible joint efforts in support of the President."

But Hull's statement failed to alter the view held by associates here that the return to private life of President Roosevelt's busiest adviser was a triumph for the quiet Tennesseean with whom Moley had differed on major policies.

Hull, general manager of the project, said work would be started next month on construction of the plant. It is to be sponsored by the Miram Walker Distillery of Walkerville, Ontario.

PRESIDENT OF GERMANY HINTS FOR MONARCHY

Accepted Land Gift As He Thinks Of "My Kaiser"

Berlin, Aug. 28.—(AP)—Germans regarded as handwriting on wall today the broad hints of two leaders regarding restoration of the monarchy and the Reich claims to the Saar territory.

Venerable President Paul von Hindenburg said he was thinking of his "Kaiser, the King and Lord" when he accepted a gift from East Prussia, a forest estate, adjoining his ancestral home at Neudeck.

Chancellor Adolf Hitler told a crowd of 200,000 that Germany, without wanting a new war or proposing to annex anything foreign, would never renounce her claims to the Saar.

"The flying Chancellor" in his swift airplane flew to both gatherings about 700 miles apart—the demonstration at Niederwald mountain near the southwestern border, and exercises for Von Hindenburg at Tannenberg, near the eastern extremity.

"Thousands of persons—representatives of the old imperial army in uniforms, an honor company of the standing army, brown-shirted attendants, people from every German province, coal miners, farmers, and others—nodded knowingly as Hindenburg said:

"I am thinking with reverence, fidelity, and gratitude of my Kaiser, the King and Lord, in this hour, when I am thinking also of my deceased comrades in arms, and when I proceed to thank you for the gift."

He deposited a wreath in memory of his fallen comrades commemorating the victory of the former army leader over Russian forces in the World War.

By the treaty of Versailles, France obtained from Germany exclusive rights of exploitation of the coal mines in the Saar basin. This was in compensation for the destruction of mines in the north of France.

The treaty provided that for fifteen years the Saar was to be governed by a commission of five chosen by the League of Nations. At the end of that period, in 1935, the people will decide by plebiscite what nationality they desire.

The area of the district is 751 square miles and the population 657,870.

READY TO CARRY SALES TAX CASE TO UPPER COURT

Meanwhile Controversy Over Adding Tax Continues

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 28.—(AP)—Formal steps were taken today to place before the Illinois Supreme Court the litigation over the constitutionality of the two per cent sales tax law, while a controversy arose as to whether merchants are permitted to add the tax to their selling prices.

Attorneys for the Council of Illinois Merchants, which is fighting the new revenue law, were ready to appear before Circuit Judge L. E. Stone here and file bond and notice of appeal to the Supreme Court.

When he held the present sales tax constitutional earlier this month, Judge Stone announced that an appeal would be permitted.

Meanwhile varying interpretations were being given the sales tax law as to whether the two per cent charge can be added to the final price of tangible property or whether it must be considered as part of the cost of the business of retailing, to be paid by the merchant and not be passed on to the consumer.

Horne Made Speech

Discussing the sales tax in his speech before the American Legion convention at Rockford last night, Governor Horner said some merchants are continuing a "campaign of misrepresentation" and even in defiance of the law and are "continuing to unlawfully charge the tax as a separate item in their bills, although this is expressly forbidden."

A different interpretation was given by R. Irving Winter of Alton, president of the Council of Illinois Merchants and one of the plaintiffs in the injunction suit against the sales tax. As his attorneys arranged for the appeal, Winter said Department of Finance inspectors are advising merchants that the tax must be included in the selling price and cannot be charged as a separate item.

"Our attorneys have carefully read the law," said Winter, "and advise that there is nothing in this law that justified any such a statement. Further, Chicago firms were the first to adopt the so-called 'bracket system.'"

Quoted Director
Winter quoted the following from a letter from the office of Joseph P. Rice, State Finance Director:

"We wish to advise you that Governor Horner has stated that the itemizing of the tax has a separate and distinct charge upon the consumer, contrary to the letter and spirit of the law. However, it is recognized that in case of certain large corporations which have nationally advertised price lists, it created a very difficult situation not to be able to add a certain percentage to their quoted price lists to cover the increased costs of doing business in Illinois. This Department of Finance, therefore, has no objection in this case to the increased price on a flat percentage on account of the retailers' occupation (sales) tax, providing there is no misrepresentation of the tax."

Efforts to get a specific ruling on this point have failed.

The tax, Horner said in his speech, "will be enforced fairly and impartially, and with all the power the state has its command."

championship throne today.

Refusing to fade out against one of the largest fields that ever sought the title, the 43-year-old veteran who makes his living making clubs at Nashville, Tenn., and beating the younger generation in golf championships, won the Western Open crown with ease yesterday, finishing the 72-hole grind at Olympia Fields with a 282 total that beat his closest rival, Tommy Armour of Chicago, by six shots. The trophy and top money of $500 went to Mac after his victory march.

Yesterday's triumph was the third since 1912 for Mac, who has never been able to rout his jinx and realize his dream of a British or American open championship. He won his first Western open title at Flossmoor, a few miles north of here, 21 years ago with a medal card of 299 and in 1925 at the Youngstown, Ohio Country Club with 281.

Third in the championship teswas Abe Espinosa of Chicago, 1928 champion, who ran second to Mac until the 63rd hole, winding up with third place money of $200 with 289. Armour's prize money was $300.

Mac, contrary to his usual form, took the lead in the championship struggle with a 68 over the No. 4 course that tied the competitive course record and increased his margin all the way.

His rounds were 68-71-71-72, even par for the distance.

• ABOVE—A. M. WILKINS, air-mail pilot for Transcontinental and Western Air, Inc., has flown the night air mail over 150,000 miles. It takes healthy nerves to hang up a record like that!

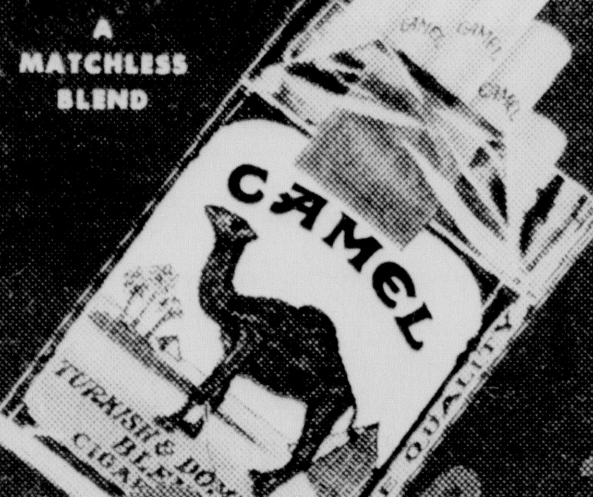

• RIGHT—AT THE END of his night run A. M. Wilkins joins a fellow pilot, W. Niedernhofer, at Newark Airport, the Eastern Terminal of TWA, for a chat and a smoke. "Camels never ruffle or jangle my nerves," Wilkins says.

• EVER NOTICE HOW airplane passengers smoke at each refueling stop? Camels never get on your nerves, no matter how much you smoke, and there's more real enjoyment in their costlier tobaccos.

IT IS MORE FUN TO KNOW

Camels are made from finer, MORE EXPENSIVE tobaccos than any other popular brand. They are milder, richer in flavor. They never tire your taste or get on your nerves.

STEADY SMOKERS TURN TO CAMELS

A. M. WILKINS, air-mail ace, says: "It's a steady grind, all right, being a night hawk on the air mail. A man has to have healthy nerves to live up to our tradition that the mail must go through! That's why I smoke Camels. And I smoke plenty! Camels never ruffle or jangle my nerves, and I like their mild, rich flavor."

Steady smokers turn to Camels because the costlier tobaccos in Camels never tire the taste—never get on the nerves.

Your taste and your nerves will confirm this. Start smoking Camels today and prove it for yourself. It is more fun to know!
